A wide-angle shot of a modern university hallway. The ceiling is a complex structure of glass panels and steel beams, with several large, spherical pendant lights hanging from it. The walls are primarily glass, allowing natural light to flood the space. In the foreground, three young men are engaged in conversation. In the background, a red banner hangs across the hallway with the text "Willkommen an der Leuphana Universität Lüneburg". Other students are visible sitting at tables in the distance. The overall atmosphere is bright and open.

Why study in Germany?

Willkommen an der Leuphana Universität Lüneburg

Because Germany...

- is a convenient base from which to explore Europe
- provides a chance to learn German, Europe's most-spoken language
- enables access to (a) vibrant culture(s)

Why Germany?
